Attention - DO NOT REPLY TO THIS MESSAGE!

- No human moderators see packages until automated checks are passed or the maintainer uses the review comments box to respond. This is very important to understand, if a package has failed any automated checks, you must take action to fix or respond.
- ATTENTION: If your package is failing any automated checks, the ONLY way to get in front of a human moderator is to follow the instructions in the next step.
- If you need to update or respond to package review information, please login and visit your package page (listed below). Use the Add to Review Comments box ONLY, Disqus/Gist comments will not reach a human reviewer.
- This may include review comments prior to the automated checks, check the status on the package - it must be in 'Ready' or 'Responded' to be in front of a human moderator.
- You can also self-reject packages in certain scenarios - see self-reject for more information.

Hi,

See the mail below. I want to add your program (undercover10) to the chocolatey (community) repository. Chocolatey.org is a sort of yum / apt system for Windows.

To add the package to the repository I need redistribution rights for the software. Do you allow that?

Kind regards,
Wilco de Lange
